Rules and requirements for baby, infant, and newborns Passport and Visa photos

If you are planning to take children on a family trip, keep in mind that each child will need an individual Malaysian passport or visa. This includes separate photos for each child. Group or family pictures will not be accepted. The above rules and regulations also apply to children but here are a few extra tips when taking photos of kids:

- No objects such as bottles, toys, car seats, or even pacifiers should be visible in the photo. If you hold your child while the picture is being taken, your hands must be hidden from view.
- Hang up a plain white sheet to camouflage the background.
- The infant must have their eyes open, mouth closed, and should be facing the camera.
- The child's head should fill 50-60% of the entire photograph. The top of the infant's shoulders needs to be visible in the photo.
